WHIG GAINS. Where there are so many towns, in which the Whigs by exertions which must command our respect and admiration, have given a death blow to Van Burenism, it would be thought unjust in us to single out a few for especial commendation, and we therefore refrain from doing this, though we do violence to our own feelings.. In very many of the towns in this county, the Whigs have done themselves high honor. They have their reward for exertion in the results they were enabled to produce. We congratulate them upon their success.

It is stated that one thousand persons can be seated on the cabin deck of the "Great Western," just launched at Bristol, Eng. to run to N. York.

The Buffalo Advertiser says that the crops are coming in so bountifully in the western part of the State, that prices are decreasing rapidly.

EXPLOSION. On Saturday last, 2d inst, about half past 6 o'clock, P. M. three of the buildings attached to the extensive gunpowder manufactory at Enfield, (Conn.) with about 250 kegs of powder were blown up. Fortunately no lives were lost, nor any person injured.

MUTUAL INSURANCE. A trader in this county has had $900 insured on his stock in the Barnstable County Mutual insurance Company for the last seven years. He called at the office this week and received all the money he paid for premiums and $1,22 for interest.

REPORT OF THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY.

This important document is exceedingly lengthy, occupying more space than the President's Message. We are consequently unable to lay it before our readers at length, and as it is rather dry, perhaps they will be much obliged to us for condensing it into reasonable space.

The report commences with an expose of the "Condition of the Treasury," which we find to be as follows :

RECEIPTS.

The receipts into the Treasury the two first quarters of the year were
From Customs,	7,234,451
Lands,	5,308,731
Miscellaneous,	512,963
To this may be added about 650,000 which remained in the hands of receivers,	650,000
Making the aggregate receipts for the two quarters,	13,18/,182
The Secretary estimates the receipts for the two last quarters at	7,000,000
Making for the year the sum total of	20,187,182
Which, together with the $5,670,137 retained from the states, and in the Treasury on the first of January last, makes the available means of the Government for this year,	$26,857,319

EXPENDITURES.

The Expenditures for the two first quarters of the year, were	16,733,884
The sum necessary to meet existing appropriations during the last half of the year, is	16,000,000
Making the total expenditures of the year,	$32,733,884

constituting an excess of expenditures of $5,876,405, over the balance on hand and the receipts of the year, beside not leaving at the close of it any thing in the Mint or Treasury for future uses, or to meet contingencies, for which purposes the Secretary of the Treasury estimates, upwards of 4,000,000, will be required !

Under these circumstances, the Treasurer recommends the raising by Congress of $100,000,000, and he knows of no better method than to withhold from the states the fourth installment of the surplus revenue !

But this is not all the Secretary says the money should be withheld, because, of the $14,596,311, now in the Treasury, only $3,928,572 are subject to immediate draft. The Treasury, therefore is bankrupt. It has money enough in the Pet Banks, but yet is bankrupt ! The Secretary himself says the fourth installment cannot be paid ! that, if an attempt is made to pay it, the Treasury will be drained of every mill of its available means, the mint run dry, and the office holders deprived of their means of doing good, by being drawn upon for every cent of the People's Money !

The next topic of the report, is the extension of payment on bonds for duties. The Secretary is of opinion, that although the extensions already granted have been all that could be reasonably asked for, yet he thinks it expedient to extend them for a limited term, as more safe for the government. The Secretary thinks the effects of the existing pressure will be entirely eradicated in six months, when the Bonds can be paid.

The Secretary next goes into a lengthy review of the difficulties in the way of paying over the surplus revenue. He gives as the first and probably chief obstacle, that the most of the money is locked up in the vaults of Western banks, which have suspended specie payments, and whose bills are not worth at the north the paper they are printed on. In fact, $1,265,575, of the July instalment, yet remains unpaid.

This and other reasons have so fully convinced the Secretary that the money will be withheld, that he takes the liberty to suspend the operation of the distribution law until Congress acts upon the matter ! "There are obligations and duties paramount to the laws." [Amos Kendall]

The Secretary next speaks of the difficulties which must inevitably exist in the payment of the appropriations, in consequence of the "perfidy," [vide Gen. Jackson] of the Banks and cautiously recommends the issuing of Treasury notes to relieve the Treasury until the victims of the Experiment are enabled to pay over what they owe the government.

The future safe-keeping of the public money claims the attention of the Secretary, and he fills a number of columns with arguments in favor of the sub-Treasury system. The Experiment having failed, it is a grand opportunity to give the office-holders the exclusive control of the money of the country. This will be effected by constituting the pockets of these agents the Treasury of the United States, and by monopolizing all the specie in the country. We cannot follow the Secretary in his arguments; it is enough that they are as plausible as could be expected.

Legislation is considered necessary by the Secretary, to a settlement with the Pet Banks, which remain indebted to the United States. The Secretary goes into a full history of the facts which are so well known to the country, and flies full in the face of Gen. Jackson, when he attests to the good conduct of the Pet Banks, and the general desire to meet their engagements with the Government, as well as resume specie payments. The Secretary recommends a liberal policy toward these institutions, and the assistance of the Government in the resumption of specie payments.

Next comes the money which should be received in payment of debts due the Government. It adopts the specie notions of the locofocos entire, and would separate the Government from the people, in all its business transactions, leaving to the twenty-six States the issue of just such stuff for currency as they see fit.

We come now to the last topic of the Report, the PRESSURE; its causes and its remedy. The causes are the over-production and fall of price of cotton; speculation in the public lands; overtrading; over-importation; the distribution of the surplus revenue. This is the mere re-echo of the old story, as stale as unsatisfactory. As to the remedies, they lie with the States, the Government having no constitutional power to interfere with the business or currency of the people. The Secretary, can only recommend prudence and economy; limitation of bank capital, and a strict confinement, in all transactions, to the actual capital of the purchaser.

In one word, the adoption of the recommendations of the Report would run the country aground; put it back 50 years, ruin the commercial community; destroy commerce, dry up the sources of our wealth and prosperity; reduce the price of all agricultural products; impoverish the people and erect on the ruins of a free Government anelective Monarchy ! For, give the Administration the whole control of the purse as well as the sword, and where should we find the strength to resist its power ?

But it cannot be possible that Congress will listen to the recommendations of the President and his Secretary, and they will go into the receptacle of the attempts that have heretofore been made to convert the executive of this nation into a powerful elective-monarch !

REPORT OF THE POST MASTER GENERAL.

This document is brief and to the purpose. Mr. Kendal asks no favors of Congress; the existing laws he considers sufficient. He has found no difficulty in collecting and paying specie, and he intends to continue the practice, if let alone. The Department is in good condition, but Mr. Kendall is somewhat mistaken in his idea that specie had been exacted in all the Post offices in the country. It is probable that not one Post-Master in a hundred has paid any regard to the orders of the Post Master General.

BE ON YOUR GUARD ! We were shown today an elegantly engraved paper bearing a close resemblance to an ordinary bank note, on which was inscribed the following :

Stockholders personally responsible.

EASTERN BANK BANGOR, Me.

Pay to H. Clay or bearer, for the N. York Foreign and Domestic Exchange Co. one dollar on demand in current bank notes,

New York, July 4, 1837.

A. Y. HAMMOND, President.

A. L. ANDREWS, Treasurer.

These orders would unhesitatingly be taken by many individuals in New England, without inspection, as issues of the Eastern bank at Bangor but whether the bank at Bangor would honor the drafts when presented, may well be questioned. We know not how many of these bills are in circulation they are probably issued ostensibly for the purpose of facilitating business in New York, by introducing bills of small denominations into circulation and if so, they ought to be confined to that city. The very conspicuous insertion of the words, "Eastern Bank, Bangor, Me." in the body of the note is calculated to deceive the public and looks very like a fraudulent intent. [Boston Merc. Jour

DISTRESSING ACCIDENT. - About nine o'clock this morning, a scaffold nearly forty feet high, in the new Catholic church at the corner of Court and Dean streets, Brooklyn, gave way and precipitated to the floor of the church, eleven carpenters who were working on it. One of them, named John Fisher, a man advanced in life, and having a large family, was killed on the spot, his head being literally smashed to pieces. Another man, named Duff had both his thighs broken, and another, named John Finn, had one of his legs broken. Five others were also very badly injured, and three of them so much so as to render it impossible that they can survive. This is not the first inauspicious incident attending the erection of this church. Last winter, when the walls were nearly ready to put the roof on, the whole building fell to the ground [N Y Journal of Commerce.

The NEW ENGLAND is 5[illegible] years old 173 feet long, and 307 tons burthen. During the past winter she has been thoroughly overhauled and repaired, and the proprietors have spared neither pains nor expense to render her in all respects worthy of public confidence. That she is the fastest boat on the route is now universally admitted, and her superiority as a sea-boat has been fully proved Travellers from the eastern part of Maine to Boston and the Boston eastward, will find this route in many respects preferable to any other. The usual stages from Bangor and Belfast arrive before the departure of the boat, and the boat arrives at Gardiner on her return previous from three to six hours before the departure of the eastern stages, affording travellers an opportunity of spending several hours in Gardiner, Hallowell and Augusta.

MORISON'S PILLS!!!

E. & I. S. WHITMAN, Agents, Bangor

THE friends of Hygeianism and the public generally, are again cautioned against the unprincipled attempts of apothecaries and quack doctors, to destroy all confidence in these highly valuable and almost indispensable family medicines, by the cry of imposition! exorbitant prices! falsehood! and more than all, by the astonishing benevolence of the craft in imparting to the world their wonderful discovery of the composition of them that a three dollar packet costs but one shilling that any person can make them, etc Counterfeiters also, beware of the law The British College of Health have recently recovered damages of the makers and venders of a spurious, dangerous article, in the courts of Massachusetts and New York; and their exclusive right and property in the sale, is firmly established and confirmed in this country.

Two hundred thousand dollars worth of these simple and effective medicines are sold annually in the United States, and injury from them is unheard of One cause of the high price they bear, is a heavy export duty paid in England, yet they are incomparably cheaper than any patent medicines ever offered, saving, as they do, expensive and protracted fits of sickness.

The genuine article cannot be bought of apothecaries, travellers or pedlars they being deprived the sale throughout the world. The only place in this section where they can be had, is at the store of E. & I. S. WHITMAN, Bangor, (whose signature is labelled on every packet they sell) where may be seen printed reports of recent trials, certificates of cures, &c Subscriptions received for the Family Adviser and Hygeian Record, a paper published at New York at $1 per annum. nov19.
